NORTHERN CALIFORNIA

Breezy northerly wind continues today, but not as strong as Friday. Dry and warm weather continues this weekend except for a slight chance of light showers over portions of the Sierra Nevada Sunday night. Continued drying early next week with increasing northerly winds Monday, then a threat of precipitation Wednesday into the weekend.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

High pressure and weak offshore flow will bring warmer weather to the region this weekend. Cooler weather is expected early next week as a trough passes to the north and overnight to morning low clouds and patchy fog return to coastal areas. Warmer temperatures are expected again by the middle of next week as high pressure builds back over the West Coast.
